

09. Ok

Verse 1

Warm day in the summer far from light rain thunder
My mood confused
Heated conversation with my dad He kept stating that It's too dangerous going out alone didn't get thrown Off balance whatsoever ok but remember
I can't keep listing ranting bickering
Won't help you well you don't value
My opinion or position?
If it means I stay stuck seems you're out of luck
Got up, not a word first time he heard (hurd)
Me clearly disagree what he Did after didn't make things better
Ignored me, for a month really? Unexpected stunt
Train started to derail tell me how the fuck would you feel?

Chorus:

I have no reason to stay mad no reason to stay sad
Picture stuck in your head Never saw the growth I suppose
Its ok Won't carry the load

Verse 2

It was clear to me a penalty
For what I did well couldn't sit dwell
On it too long had to move on
Relieved peace
Struck first feeling hurt
At least true colors shown thank you so
Much for being real means a great deal
Anger came after You'd rather Have me constantly within arm's reach short leash avoid risky moves? I get you! But I do
Not agree with the way I'm treated don't say
Your route is right might Be But see
Forcing me down an avenue drowns me not same as you
Rather take risks explore over dying knowing there is more
To gain grow and so
Lies fell one by one what have I done?!

Chorus:

I have no reason to stay mad no reason to stay sad
Picture stuck in your head Never saw the growth I suppose
Its ok Won't carry the load

Verse 3

Couple weeks passed stuff repeats in my head
Lunch with a friend told her about dent
In heart mentally scared
She replied write a letter works better
Words are yours wrote them of course
Source of your pain explain
Where you want to go
Let it shine though you want them to help you
Work together for a life of value
Key stroke after key stroke slowly choked
Words don't lie
Spent two days thinking of ways to place
Present past future At last blur
Gone? wrong
Reply Don't recognize anything heart and soul cry
Tried no use fuse
Died no lies
Here's why

Chorus:

I have no reason to stay mad no reason to stay sad
Picture stuck in your head Never saw the growth I suppose

Outro (Speech)

I remember that I wanted so badly to be seen by family in the way that I see myself. But I know now, if you can't it's impossible. You can keep talking but you know, it doesn't work. So know I'll compliment them if they interact with me positively and I'll say it. And if not, I'll just let them be and they live their life and I live mine. I'm happy with that
